

Attention Is All You Need - Summary

The attention mechanism allows a model to weigh the importance of different parts of the input when producing

Key points:

- Scaled dot-product attention computes queries, keys and values.
- Multi-head attention runs several attention functions in parallel.
- The Transformer architecture relies entirely on attention, removing recurrence.
- Attention improves parallelization and reduces training cost.